

Pine County Fair Draws Large Attendance Despite Cold Weather

The 36th annual fair of the Pine County Agricultural Society came to a close here yesterday after completing one of the best programs ever given.

Monday, entry day, brought in the largest stock exhibit ever shown here both in quantity and quality. Barn space was at a premium and many coming in late were forced to use the sheds in the rear of the barns. Extra pens were built to take care of the swine, which exhibit was much larger than in former years. The main building was crowded with exhibits of all kinds and many fine vegetables, fruits, small grains and corn were shown.

The auto show attracted many people and proved to be quite an attraction. Fettsch's Garage with Overlands, Johnson & Kowalek with Maxwells, Helots Bros. with Oaxlands, Dempsey Mahon of Hinckley with Stuebbers and Chevrolet, A. M. Matson of Rush City with the Dodge, Gillespie of Cambridge with Buicks, Hopkins of the age of Hinckley with Dorts and the Pine City Motor Co. with 1924 models.

The program in front of the grandstand was started Tuesday with a concert by the Pine City band. This was followed by the freestyle, which was followed by the Farmers trot or pace. The winners of this race were Stoffer, Art, Cole and Wason third. At the call for the running race fourteen horses responded which necessitated dividing the horses into two relays. In the first section, O. G. Schmidt's gray took first, Smith second, and G. C. Schmidt's black third. In the second section, W. E. Hughes' Chestnut took first, Chas. Merriott's black second and the Hjeny bay third. These races were the best seen here in many years as they were all out to win and it was no snap for any of them.

The ball game Tuesday between Rush City and Hinckley was won by Rush City by a score 6 to 2. Five innings neither team scored and was a fine exhibition of ball. Rush City rushed over two markers in their half of the sixth by a home run, fielding on the base of the Hinckley team. Hinckley came right back with three rallies in their half of the inning, only to lose the lead the next inning. With the count 7 to 3 against them, Hinckley came to bat in the last half of the ninth and made a desperate attempt to tie the score but only succeeded in clearing three runs across. Damply on the mound for Hinckley pitched one of the best games seen here in a long time, allowing the opposition only two scratch hits and striking out fourteen men.

The dance in the armory Tuesday was well attended but the crowd was cut down on account of the rainy weather.

The weather on Wednesday was anything but warm and overcast and furs were more in order than straw hats. Despite this however, one of the largest crowds that ever attended the fair here was on hand to hear Senator-elect Magnus Johnson speak. He was introduced by Hon. Adam Biele and was given a rousing welcome by the large crowd. The Senator gave a brief outline of what he would work for in the National Capital and asked the backing of his constituents while working for them in the upper branch of Congress.

In the free-for-all harness race the Stauffer horse won in straight heats with Cole second and Wason third.

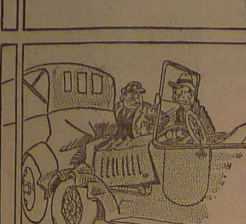

The combined Askov-Sandston and furnished music for the free attractions and was greatly enjoyed.

The winners of the running race Tuesday then took the track and had the work brought man a gap from the crowd. The winners of this race were Stoffer, Art, Cole and Wason third. At the call for the running race fourteen horses responded which necessitated dividing the horses into two relays. In the first section, O. G. Schmidt's gray took first, Smith second, and G. C. Brook Park Fair to be Held Friday

Brook Park will hold their annual community fair next Friday and a successful one is looked for. Numerous prizes are offered in the display list, but all articles exhibited must be home-grown. Curtis M. Johnson of Rush City, president of the state fair board, will be the speaker and will address the audience at 1:30 p. m. sharp. All kinds of sports are arranged for including a Ford relay race and a motor relay race with ten on each side, also a tug of war between the towns of Pomroy and Brook Park. Mora and Brook Park will play ball and both teams are good so a fast game is looked for. In the evening a dance will be given in the community hall with music by the Sandstone orchestra. The farmer bringing the largest load of people to the fair will receive a prize as will also the farmer coming the longest distance. The Hinckley band will furnish music all the afternoon.

John Felton Married Monday

A pretty wedding ceremony was performed at the Church of Immaculate Conception last Monday morning, by Father Leo when Miss Ruby Haessig became the wife of John Felton.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents, only relatives and a few friends attending.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Haessig of Plainville, Minn., was attended in a traveling suit of blue and carried pink astors. She was escorted by Miss Anna Badler, who wore a suit of blue serge and also carried pink astors. The groom was attended by his brother, Joe Felton.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Felton, living northwest of town. He is well known in this community having made his home here since childhood.

The newlyweds will make their home on the Felton farm northwest of town. The Pine Plover joins with many friends in wishing them the best of success in their new life.

County Board Issues Bonds

At the special meeting of the County Board last Saturday, the Commissioners voted to issue bonds in the amount of $250,000 for the permanent improvement of Trunk Highway No. 1, through Pine County. This is permissible by an act of the 1923 legislature and the former bond issue of $110,000, as stated by Senator Larson, does not conflict with this last issue.

The paving to be done by the highway department will come between Pine City and Rock Creek and Friedland and Sandstone.

The bonds will be issued by the State Highway Department and are payable within ten years.

Fire Destroyed by Fire

Fire completely destroyed the house and all its contents on the Kirk Bassett farm southeast of town last Thursday afternoon. The family was all away from home at the time the fire started and the origin is unknown unless it was struck by lightning during the short thunder storm that passed over.

Nothing was saved of the contents and a total loss to Mr. Bassett. The ladies of Rock Creek will hold a sewing bee at the Rock Creek church on Monday of next week, for the Bassetts to which all are invited.

Lightning struck the Lawrence Larson home northwest of town last Thursday night, causing considerable damage to the chimney and bearing up the roofed barn. No one was hurt, Mrs. Larson having just left the rooms where the damage was done.

FEDERATION REJECTS PRICE FIXING PLAN

Farm Bureau day at the Minnesota State Fair last Thursday was marked by two important decisions; rejection of so-called price fixing proposals and Aaron Sapiro's warning that "yelling for help" has not and never will remedy economic evils from which farmers are suffering.

The price fixing proposal was rejected by county officers at their annual fall business meeting, after prolonged debate. A resolution placing the Federation behind the program that has been advocated at more than a score of conferences in western counties, met with instant opposition. The proposal involved re-establishment of the U. S. Wheat Corporation, a demand for a special session of Congress and the organization of a government board to aid farmers in stabilizing prices.

A motion to table the resolution was lost 9 to 13. Delegates voted against this motion because they said they did not wish to dismiss the subject without considering it in its merits. A motion to vote was also lost 10 to 7, with representatives from 11 districts not voting.

The proposal was advocated as an emergency step, need at this time to relieve the crisis which farmers are facing.

It was opposed as economically unsound, impossible of realization and must result in subsidy, in one form or another.

Under Federal regulations, adopted a year ago and used at the last annual meeting, only representative farmers from counties that had paid dues during the year were allowed to vote.

Aaron Sapiro, national auditor of co-operative marketing as practiced in California, told more than 2,000 farmers who gathered for the Farm Bureau day program that "yelling for help" and leaning on the government could not be expected to solve their marketing problem.

"You yelled for more credit and you got it, still you have dollar wheat. You yelled for a dirt farmer on the Federal reserve board and got it; and still you have 50 cent potatoes. You yelled for a tariff on farm products and got it and yet you are no better off."

Mr. Sapiro's address was frequently referred to by delegates opposing the price stabilization resolution.

"Political action can not solve your marketing problem," he told his hearers. He praised farmers of the state for their energy in pushing their own programs to attack the selling end of their products with the same loyalty, intelligence and determination that they have used in growing crops and supporting their co-operative marketing plan.

He outlined, at length the wonderful story of what has been accomplished by the commodity cooperative in the Cotton states of the South during Mississippi, that what had been done with cotton could and would be done with wheat, potatoes, beans and in fact all farm products.

"You must realize that all political and governmental machinery will be useless to you unless you are organized on a sound business basis. You must keep your business affairs in your own grasp. You can do it, if you WILL."

Mrs. Bertha Cook of Logan, Iowa, outlined the work Farm Bureau would do for you.

New County Agent Employed

The meeting of the executive committee of the Pine County Farm Bureau Federation was held as scheduled last Saturday afternoon after the meeting of the county board. At the meeting of the commissioners the necessary affidavits were filed showing that the Farm Bureau had complied with requirements of the law and the necessary funds were pronounced available.

State Leader Baumer was on hand with three candidates for the position of county agent and they were given an examination by the members of the committee and after due consideration, Mr. Hammergren of Milaca was selected as the favorite candidate of the majority and was employed, his services to start on the 15th of this month when his contract expires in next month. However, he will attend the county fair at this week and the community fair at 12:00 p. m. on Friday and make up this time to Milaca next county after the 15th.

Mr. Hammergren is a native of Iowan county. He has considerable experience in county agent work and a graduate of the state agricultural school. After leaving school he conducted his own farm for three years and then took the position in Milaca county. His work has been successful there during his entire period of service and numerous letters of commendation from residents of that county were presented to the board.

"Haunted Valley"

In one of the early episodes of Ruth Roland's latest Pastoral, "Haunted Valley," which comes to the Family Theatre Tuesday, Sept. 18th, eighty-two explosions occur, and the daring little serial queen declared: "It's a good thing when you barely escape being shot Heavenward by a hair's breadth and are covered with blood that your own best head would never, never know you. The concussion made our machines skid all over the place and I was surely glad when the scenes were finished. This is family night, 4c admission the whole family."

WHILE GETTING SEED CORN GET A-PLenty

This is the time to select seed corn for next year's planting. Successful corn growers urge the importance of selecting a liberal amount of seed, even as much as will be required. If this is generally done, they say, and seed shortage emergencies in other districts can be averted.

Farm crops division and agricultural extension service men of the university believe that now is the time to begin planning for next year's corn crop—the crop that is greater in acreage than any other grown in Minnesota. Selecting good seed corn is the first important step for a successful growing campaign for next year, they say.

Corn selected now for seed should be placed under shelter where there is free circulation of air about each ear. This will reduce the moisture content rapidly and lessen the danger of damage by rot, mold and freezing. If the seed ears have been well cured they may be stored with safety, in much less space.

The old saying "while you're getting a plenty" is a good motto for Seed Corn time, September 10 to 12.

WHAT $1,000.00 Invested With Us, Will Do:

An investment of $1,000.00 in Special Preferred Stock of the Eastern Minnesota Power Company at 7 per cent, will bring you a return of $70.00 a year.

Figure it out for yourself. In eleven years by reinvesting the dividends you would have a capital of $2,164.00. Where else could you put your money—in a safe security—that would offer you these returns?

One thousand dollars invested with us now will start you on the way to future independence. Re-invest your dividends and each year you will be adding to your income.

We would rather have our customers our security holders than have them owned outside our community. It brings us closer to them and they get the profits that would go elsewhere. That is the reason for offering you securities to you. To the investor—the man or woman who has worked for money he wants to have work for him—there is no safer investment than the one founded on community needs.

TROWBRIDGE AND QUILL PEN

Author of "Darius Green and His Flying Machine" Once a School Master.

J. T. Trowbridge, author of "Darius Green and His Flying Machine" in his early life once a school master in Lockport, N. Y. In those days quill pens were in use, and during the half hour given to the writing lesson the prevailing silence was broken by the scratching of quill, and the frequent appeal, "Mind my pen! Master! Please mend my pen!" Mr. Trowbridge says in a book on his own life, entitled "My Own Story":
 "Skill in pen-mending was one of the teacher's indispensable accomplishments; he was likewise required to write the learner's copy. Mere drudgery much of this was, and it would have been intolerable to my youth and inexperience and sensitive nervousness, but for the double necessity of doing my duty to those under my charge, and of earning my humble salary—stream dollars a month that season. Yet the pleasure in some of my work atoned for much of the annoyance attending the rest."

Important Question.
 A man was arrested on the charge of robbing another of his watch and chain. It was said that he had thrown a bag over his victim's head, strangled and robbed him. There was so little evidence, however, that the Judge quickly said:
 "Discharged!"
 "The prisoner stood still in the dock, amazed at being given his freedom so soon."
 "You're discharged," repeated the Judge. "You can go. You are free."
 Still so word from the prisoner, who stood staring at the Judge.
 "Don't you understand? You have been acquitted. Get out!" shouted the Judge.
 "Well," stammered the man, "do I have to give him back his watch and chain?"

Back Wash

THE business of refining petroleum has many hazards—not the least of which accrues from the necessity of balancing the supply with the demand.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) always has kept itself in a position to supply the demand of its customers for petroleum products, no matter how great or abnormal the demand might be.

During the winter months, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) refined and stored large quantities of gasoline in anticipation of the busy summer season. Other refiners in the Middle West pursued the same course.

In previous years the midcontinent refiners have found a ready market for their surplus product on the Atlantic seaboard.

This year the heavy, unprecedented and unlooked-for California production upset calculations. Enormous quantities of California crude petroleum and California gasoline were shipped to the Eastern seaboard by boat, flooding the market and cutting off one of the principal outlets of the midcontinent refiners.

The result was a back wash of distress gasoline in the Middle West which had to be sold.

It was this distress gasoline that the Governor of South Dakota was able to purchase at less than the present day cost of manufacture and distribution. By selling it without profit, and without any expense for distribution, he was enabled to announce a drastic, temporary reduction from the then existing selling price.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) while protesting that it was below the cost of production, refining and distribution plus a reasonable profit met this price because it is the established principle of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) that its customers shall be able to buy its products as cheaply as they can buy similar products from any competitors.

The success achieved by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is due in larger measure to the fact that at all times it has held paramount the welfare of its customers whose respect and esteem it has won and intends to hold.

 Dear Neighbor Bill:
 Last week when I paid my rent I thought I was buying the flat I live in. That money would have paid the taxes on my old farm for a year. My next flat neighbor's name may be Johnson, I don't know for we don't get acquainted here in the city. Mary and the kids don't like living upstairs and want to go back to the farm again where they can breathe.
 I haven't been working very steadily because those what they call unions strike so much, don't tell the Carlson but you can't make any money here and let me know if my old "JOB" has been sold or rented again. I suppose that red heifer you bought so cheap at my sale gives lots of milk now. How much would you take for her now? Take good care of my dog Bill, for I may want him again. Must go to bed now as we have to get up at five o'clock and ride an hour to my work.
 Write me about your crops.

Signals Cross Half the Continent

From St. Paul-Minneapolis, Duluth To North Pacific Coast

ACROSS half the continent—from the Mississippi River and head of the Great Lakes to the North Pacific Coast—the Northern Pacific is installing electric automatic block signals.

This great undertaking is nearing completion. At the close of this year's construction activities, all the main line of the Northern Pacific Railway from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Seattle, Tacoma and Portland will be protected by the most modern type of electrically operated block signals.

In addition the important main trunk between Duluth Superior and St. Paul Minneapolis has the complete standard installation. Altogether, the Northern Pacific has more than 2500 miles of track safeguarded with automatic block signals. The cost has been more than $4,000,000.

Every possible care is taken to give passengers on the Northern Pacific safe, comfortable and completely satisfactory transportation service. In the last seven years the Northern Pacific has carried 6,000,000 people safely without a single fatal accident among its passengers.

On your next trip over the Northern Pacific watch the block signals. Notice the accuracy of their operation. They are representative of the scientific precision and accuracy which goes into the operations of the Northern Pacific.

FAMOUS WIMBLEDON TENNIS STADIUM

The aerial view shows the center court at the famous Wimbledon tennis stadium in England in which William M. Johnston and Francis T. Hunter, two American players, battled for the world's championship.

Ruth Is Often Passed

A baseball expert says that in his seventy-eighth game of the season, played in Cleveland, Babe Ruth received his one-hundredth hit. It is believed that Ruth is walked as frequently as he is struck in the second half of the season. The Babe will receive 300 walks this year. That will establish a new record for bases on balls, but it is hardly a record that the Babe cares much about. Ruth's high run of passes was in 1920, when he walked 148 times. That record was approached only once in modern baseball, Jimmy Sheekard, former Cub lead-off man, walking 147 times in 1911, but with Sheekard walking was a science. He tried to outguess the pitcher, and when he walked it was the result of a battle of wits.

Sam Bohne Is Star

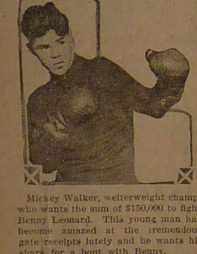

Manager Pat Moran's hustling Redlegs are playing as good a game as any other team in the National League. Sam Bohne, the steering second base man, has done much to aid his club.

Cobb Made Mistake in Trading Howard Ehmke

Howard Ehmke has done some great pitching for the Red Sox this season. Every time Tyros Cobb looks at the pitching records he has a strong temptation to throw a fit. Tyros traded Ehmke to the Red Sox last winter because he did not agree with Howard in their personal relations. Ty took Pratt and Rip Collins for Ehmke and did not get the best of it by any means. Pratt has been collecting splinters on the bench and Collins hasn't won many games for the Tigers. While Ehmke has shown form which might have won 10 or 17 games for the Tigers with the kind of support Howard would have got with Detroit.

Walker Wants $150,000

Mickey Walker, welterweight champ, who wants the sum of $150,000 to fight Benny Leonard. This young man has become amazed at the remendous gate receipts lately and he wants his share for a bout with Benny.

Stop Watches Came Into Use Hundred Years Ago

Ever since stop watches came into use almost 100 years ago it has been the practice to record time in harness racing in minutes, seconds and quarters seconds. Some 40,000 harness horse have made records in the 2:30 list, and some hundreds of thousands have been timed under this method.

Indianapolis Has Been In Four Major Leagues

Indianapolis has had quite a career in organized baseball, the city having been in four different leagues at one time or another. It is now in the American association and has been in the National League in 1875, in the Federal League three seasons, in the National League one and in the American League one.

CIRCLING THE DIAMOND

The yellow peril manifests itself now as a yearning to kill the umpire when the home team is losing.
The Atlanta club purchased Freddie Heck from the Charlotte Sally League club and plans to use him in the outfield.
Eddie Bell, pitcher with the Toronto International League team, has been sold to Worcester of the Eastern League.
Johnny Moran, former Notre Dame star, didn't last long with Atlanta and wasn't worth the transportation.
Pitcher Molly Craft seems to have found himself in the Virginia league and is pitching winning ball for Norfolk. Another former Southern League pitcher who is getting by is Lefty Wilson, sent by Mobile to Portsmouth.
Pitcher Johnny Conroy, who last year was a tower of strength to the Cincinnati Reds, was obtained by the Philadelphia Athletics by the winter trade.
Little has been heard of Gene Yella of the San Francisco Seals of late. The scouts are said to have found a fault in Yella's golf away from the plate.
There are plenty who will say that Reggie Hornaday of the Cards is a better man than Frick. Putting any fall player ahead of Hornaday is no little job.
The Nashville club has called in Brock Murphy, who has been sent to Birmingham in the Three-I as a loan, but he will get another trial in the Nashville infield.
Detroit has shown only one "Hole" notch in the days he last leading out team here in doing something else about it is doing something else about it. He is an all-rounder and a showman he has had no one who was ever so good.

The Detroit club is reported as having purchased Sep God, a southpaw pitcher, from the Bay City club of the Minn. League.
The fourth series rule was adopted by the National League in 1901. Two years later it was taken up by the American League.
Cleo Carlisle, brother of outfielder Roy Carlisle of the Charlotte team, has signed a contract to play with the Charlotte next season.
The Mobile club looked over the records of the defunct Cotton States League and decided to take on Bill Halloway.
Bill Halloway, veteran southpaw, has been exchanged to Omaha by the club in return for Tex McDonald, no longer veteran infielder.
Eddie Meeks, outfielder transferred early in the season by the Louisville club to St. Louis, has been released by that club by Wilson.
The veteran Roy Mitchell of the Minneapolis club probably won't do much more from now on.
Harry Stralton, second baseman of the Tri-city team of the Southwestern League, was sold to the Milwaukee American association club.
The best mind in the American League is throwing from any position, says Ernest Johnson of the Leafs, it isn't supposed, however, Tony Frango.
Frank A. Root, president of the Cotton States League, makes it clear that the league has not "discarded" but merely suspended operations for the season.
Before the time limit for trades in the Minn. League expired, manager Jack Quinn of the Duluth club and Manager, Guying Fisher, San Francisco (for him).

INFLUENCED BY PERSIAN ART;

CHIC DRESS ACCESSORIES

FASHION is again dallying with the art of the Orient without confining itself to any particular country or period. The influence of China is seen in costumes and millinery. There are new developments in costumes that show their inspiration to Indo-China, India and Tibet but not least, to Persia, and this Persian influence promises to add a great deal of novelty and color to the season's styles. The suit shown in the right here shows its line from the costume of the Persian court. It is of serge made with a knee-length coat ornamented with a rich brocade embroidery. The collar and cuffs are finished with material of the same color as the brocade. A perfectly plain, ankle-length skirt completes the costume. A smart touch is added by the hat which is ornamented with all-over embroidery in a design closely akin to that in the coat. The dress shown at the left is made of a soft tulle and is in the blouse that the designer turns to the riotous color and superb patterns of Persian weaves. The design is pure Persian with jewel-like tones of red, green and blue against a gold background. The little round collar is of plain material and lies at the front with a ribbon tie. There is a decided vogue for these elaborate blouses to be worn with two-piece suits. When they are not of printed silk they may be of crepe, silk plain silks or satins ornamented with embroidery or beading. For blue serge there is the smartest kind of a blouse of blue crepe ornamented at the waistline and collar with Chinese embroidery. For everyday wear, plain suits with

Beautifully handsome are those that do double duty as table, kind and true. FOR WINTER FUR CLOSET Where mushrooms are plentiful they may be canned, pickled or made into catsup, which will make a most delicious flavor for sauces, gravies and salads during the winter. Mushroom Catsup—Wipe the freshly-gathered mushrooms, if perfectly clean they are much better if not washed. Put in layers into a stone crock with a sprinkling of salt. Cover with cloth folded to keep out the dust and let stand in a warm place for 24 hours. Put into a colander to drain off the salt and wash over them cold water to rinse. Put the mushrooms through a coarse sieve and to every quart of liquor add an ounce of peppercorns, and simmer for 30 minutes. Then add one-fourth of an ounce of whole allspice, one-half ounce of sliced ginger root, one dozen whole cloves, three blades of mace, and cook 15 minutes. Put into small bottles, cork and dip into sealing wax or paraffin. Company Sweet Pickles—Take one pound each of candied cherries, a layer of raisins, leek in cloves, two or three on the stem, six dozen of the tiny cucumbers. Put a quart of the best cider vinegar into a porcelain lined crock and add one pound of granulated sugar and half a cup of water to raise. Put the mushrooms through a coarse sieve and to every quart of liquor add an ounce of peppercorns, and simmer for 30 minutes. Then add one-fourth of an ounce of whole allspice, one-half ounce of sliced ginger root, one dozen whole cloves, three blades of mace, and cook 15 minutes. Put into small bottles, cork and dip into sealing wax or paraffin. Pepper Jam—Wipe, remove the seeds from six sweet red peppers. Put through the food chopper, sprinkle with salt and let stand for three or four hours. Drain, rinse with cold water and put into a saucepan. Add one and one-half cups of sugar, one cup of vinegar, and boil all for two or three hours. The consistency of jam. Put into glasses. When cool cover with paraffin. UNJUST RESULTS OF MONEY PLANS

Unsound Currency Gives Sellers Unfair Advantage Over the Producers.

EXPERT EXPLAINS MONEY

Points Out Dangers in So-Called Energy Dollars—Other Plans Exposed.

"How demagogues are using false doctrine of so-called 'sound money' to give themselves or the class they represent unfair advantages at the expense of real producers is exposed in the Journal of the United States Bankers Association by H. Parker Willis, expert on the money question.

"There is no subject in whose name more crimes against the people have been committed than that of 'sound currency,'" Mr. Willis says. "The term is always resorted to by demagogues. At the present moment it has become a danger that it will be used by a potential presidential candidate as representing the platform upon which he expects to run. There is no question that more nearly and directly touches the immediate welfare of every class in the community."

Purpose of Money Primary function of money and currency, it is explained, are to serve as a means of exchanging goods and as a means of measuring the value of goods. Mr. Willis continues: "Demagogues and those who are disposed to mislead the public by various ulterior reasons have succeeded in disseminating an entirely incorrect view of the purpose of money. Some of them contend that the soundest or best currency is that which is so arranged that it will about a 'fair' redistribution of wealth. They want a constantly depreciating currency—the value changing, playing into the hands of the seller of goods, by enabling him to cost commodity at higher prices in terms of money, so that he pays the producer from whom he has obtained them less and more, 17 1/2 A. A. MONEY PLANS THAT THIS KIND OF CURRENCY IS OFTEN HIGHLY PRAISED OR FAVORED BY THE PRODUCE FIELDS IS NOTWITHSTANDING THAT HE IS THE GREATEST SUFFERER FROM IT."

Energy Currency There is another popular view of our currency which aims to base it upon "natural products" or "natural products"—usually it is true, paper products or forces which have been monopolized or can be controlled by the advocate of such currency. Thus from time to time there have been schemes to issue a currency based upon or protected by farm products stored in warehouses or occasionally representing "units of energy" or horse power.

The rulers of Soviet Russia at one time attempted to issue a currency representing "labor time," each man receiving a check representing the number of hours of time he had put in at work, while goods themselves were to be valued in terms of hours of production time. The man who put in an hour's time in street cleaning received the same control over goods as he who put in an hour's time in a factory. The theory was that this kind of "sound" currency enabled the "poor man" to get a larger supply of goods. "The trouble was that when those who could perform a certain kind of labor were not paid in proportion to their effort they stopped making goods. So it was not very long before Russia before the sound currency which was issued in favor of the poor man had brought it about that the poor man could not buy anything with the currency. This was an unfortunate kind of 'soundness.' We do not want something like it in the United States today, yet every kind of proposal is now being made to...

SWEDEN SAVES HER FORESTS

Country Has Comprehensive System Which Has Materially Added to the National Wealth.

Reforestation has been carried on in Sweden as a general practice for so many years that there are no cut-over lands such as in most sections of the country, according to E. J. Hankin, forest economist of the United States forestry service, who recently returned from a year as a fellow of the American-Swedish foundation. "Sentiment is crystallized in Sweden so that forestry is an established thing," Mr. Hankin says. "Mr. Hankin is the first forestry representative of the Pacific coast who ever was sent abroad by the foundation. He attended the Swedish forestry institute in Stockholm and studied at the headquarters of the Swedish forest service and experiment station. The purpose of the fellowship is to assist in an exchange of ideas between countries.

Wages in Sweden are generally much more than in Oregon. Mr. Hankin said. The average wage in Sweden is $1.50 and $2 for the man who is working in the woods or in the sawmills, he added.

Horsepower Machine

"I don't like to feel as 'strange as a horse' may have the opportunity to put their strength to a test. A device known as the astrometer, one, which gauges the strength of human beings in terms of horsepower, has been perfected. It consists of a bicycle transmission and a hand crank connected to a cylinder, which transmits the motion of the transmission. All the revolutions fall below a gear to maintain the velocity of the rotating cylinder at a predetermined rate. The person being tested is required to maintain the velocity of the rotating cylinder at a predetermined rate. Not a Silver Lining. Just as the weather is gloomy, Mattie Sadle, Sam and Lint, were to go away to school, their uncle, who was paying the tuition, called them to him. That Monday the day of December 22, a dance before the eyes of the young scholars, especially the boys. They were all there, and they were all up hill, to their uncle's house. Duffly they listened to a lecture of "Pine" and "the terrific principle" reached into his "money pocket."
