TWO EXPLOSIONS IN COAL MINES

Three Lives in Arizona Shaft, While Two Men Die in Illinois.

Quinn, Ariz.—Three miners were killed when two boxes of powder exploded on the 600-foot level of the United American mine here. The bodies of two men were blown to pieces, while a third miner was overcome by fumes and was found dead in the mine. West Frankfort, Ill.—Two men are dead and a score injured as a result of the first fatal explosion at Mine No. 1 of the Chicago, Wilmington and Franklin Coal company near here, which holds the world record for high rate production. Approximately 100 men were working in the shaft at the time of the blast, escaped without suffering even a scratch.

The cause of the explosion probably never will be known, it was said. Mine officials expressed the belief that a gas pocket formed at the bottom and that a miner's torch ignited it. The blast occurred about a mile and a quarter from the shaft. It was partly fatal, in a room that had been worked out. Mine officials said the shaft would operate as no damage was done.

Junior Class Play Next Wednesday

The Junior Class of the Pine City high school will present the play, "The Dream that Came True" at the Family theatre, next Wednesday evening. The following students on the cast will make you want to see the play so get your tickets early, price 15c and 25c.

Within a few days a fifteen fold high of relief will issue forth from the direction where the triumphant cast of the Junior play will stand. The conditions of the actors have been so dangerous the last few days that they begin to look eagerly forward to the time when this ordeal shall be over.

For instance there is Angelina Mand (Melba Wiley) chewing gum so long, and keeping her mouth open so wide that she very nearly swallowed every phonograph record that she might cause indigestion if it goes too far.

Then there is Ma Jenkins (Mary Mack) in a nominal part. Miss Mallins (Gladia Galko) will infect the house with fever.

Poor Jack (Clifford Dorox) has used quite a number of film rolls in his camera these last few weeks. Miss Bidde (Laura Sward) has suffered from a severe cramp in her neck as a result of too much posing for the photographer.

Merrill Byrnes (Dorothy Carlson) will have to see the dentist pretty soon because her stiff upper lip has loosened most of her front teeth. Maybe she'll surprise us some day by bringing along a new set of teeth.

Isth Nora (Beulah Tomlin) burlesque her own day sometime before Venus (it seems that history repeats itself and we're all pagan Roman again).

Emmy Lew (Ella Stelner) said that "she was there" so many times that it appears she has to answer an off-putting roll call.

Miss Lomas (Florence Greig) is quite tired of juggling worthless packages around and Billy Beat (Carl Holmberg) can not yet realize that Peggy (Florence Erickson) really "loves" him.

Delphine Norton (Alice Peterson) persists in reminding her friends of a woman movement which she has been forbidden to do so a great many times.

Gordon Clay (Edward Peterson) bought a new box of matches today, not that he smokes, but he needs them to light his way through the numerous streets that occur in his career.

Miss Allaire (Charlotte Wilcox) does not believe in money, she says she knows—she says it's a contraction of "matter of money".

Doris (Gladys Harman) is said to have her special gift, she is so well that she can give it by simply saying a pair of words.

Bobby (Kerwin Douglas) has received his Christmas gift over and over again, Christmas won't hold enough gifts for him. He is getting annoyed from going into the future.

Old man Norton (Lambert Berry) has shaken hands with Nan (Gladys Bidder) so often that the latter has counted to five, he is sure that he should do when the former holds out his hand to her.

Power Company Donates Room

The Eastern Minnesota Power Company have fixed up a room that it for the free use of the public where small gatherings or meetings may be held.

The room is downstairs at the rear of the downtown office. The furniture belonging to the Pine City Development Association has been installed and it makes a very cozy meeting place. The room will be used as a meeting place for the association and Mr. Allen, manager of the Power company, invites the public generally, and especially the farmers, to make free use of the room whenever they desire a place to hold small meetings. Mr. Allen's kindness in offering the room is a generous one and one that will be appreciated by the public.

Band Offers Free Lessons

The Pine City band wants all boys of the community who would like to learn to play a band instrument to leave their names with J. P. Buchan, president of the band association.

The band association would appreciate either the loan or donation of band instruments that are not in use for boys to learn on. It doesn't matter how old an instrument is, the band can use it.

There is an excellent opportunity for boys who would like to play in the band and they should hand in their names to Mr. Buchan at once. As soon as they have enough applicants a beginners class will be started.

The fire in the hotel had gained such headway before it was discovered that it was impossible to save the building and the fire quickly spread to the other buildings. The loss to the publishers of the Journal is a heavy one as they had a very complete plant and had recently installed a new Linotype machine (or setting type).

One Life Lost in Fire at Braham

A disastrous fire occurred at Braham early last Monday morning, which totally destroyed three buildings and contents and cost the life of Mr. Parrish of that place.

The Braham hotel owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jos Parrish, the building and plant of the Braham Journal and the residence of Jos. Leiding were rained to the ground.

The fire started in the hotel, presumably from the chimney near the roof. Jos Parrish smothered about 2:30 in the morning and went outside to investigate where he discovered sparks on the roof. After walking through the hotel he spread the alarm.

His father was the unfortunate victim of the fire. Mr. Parrish sr. was carrying some clothes from the burning building and was noticed outside. He was missed later on and could not be found. Monday morning his charred remains were discovered in the ashes of the burned building. It is thought he had gone back into the burning building for more contents and was evidently overcome by smoke or injured so that he could not escape.

A high wind was raging Sunday night which caused the flames to leap a vacant lot and ignite the printing plant and the dwelling house. It was only the heroic work of the fire fighters which saved a garage of the vicinity as the roof caught fire numerous times.

The fire in the hotel had gained such headway before it was discovered that it was impossible to save the building and the fire quickly spread to the other buildings. The loss to the publishers of the Journal is a heavy one as they had a very complete plant and had recently installed a new Linotype machine (or setting type).

Presbyterian Sale Next Tuesday

The annual sale and dinner of the Presbyterian ladies will be held in the church on Tuesday next week. The sale will open at 12:30 noon and a big chicken pie supper will be served in the evening commencing at 5:30.

This will be an opportunity for folks to buy many beautiful Christmas presents. Everyone is cordially invited to the sale and dinner.

Will Meet at North Branch

A meeting of dairymen will be held at North Branch next Monday December 3rd for the purpose of having every herd in Pine and Chicago counties tested for T. B. The state veterinarian will be present to conduct the meeting.

In the morning, the Chicago County Guernsey Breeders' Association will hold their annual meeting. They extend a cordial invitation to the Pine County Guernsey Association members to be present at this meeting.

The recent escape of a prisoner from the Los Angeles jail has made the police of that city more watchful than ever. When Gaston Glass and Kenneth Hagan left the Scherberg studio for lunch in the prison garb they wear in "The Girl Who Came Back" the Alhambra attraction at the Family theatre Saturday the year set triumphantly by an officer and had to do some explaining before he would be convinced they were only actors for Tom Foreman.

Potato Growers Campaign Now On

The organization of the Minnesota Potato Growers Association is now on in Pine County. Meetings were held last week at Greely, Pine City, Rock Creek, and Askov. These meetings were well attended.

C. E. Coats of Rush City and Geo. Empey of Hinckley addressed these meetings. The purpose and plan of organization is thoroughly discussed by these gentlemen.

Meetings are being held this week at Groningen on Wednesday evening, November 28th; Willow River Friday evening, November 30th; Hinckley Saturday afternoon December 1st at 1:30 p.m. at the Royal Neighbors hall.

The drive is going good in Pine County. The farmers and every one interested in cooperative marketing should attend this meeting and get more light on the plan of marketing that has proven successful in the marketing of fruit in California, cotton in Texas, and tobacco in Kentucky.

Come and help the potato farmers throughout the potato growing section of the northwest solve this big problem of marketing their commodity.

Mr. Schneider was employed at the Petzel garage the past summer and the bride was employed in the Petzel Cafe resigning her position a few weeks ago.

Pleads Guilty to Liquor Charge

Sheriff Hawley and his deputy Jack Woodhead, paid a visit to Kingsdale last Saturday afternoon in the course of which they arrested Wm. Cavanaugh of that place on a moonshine charge.

They found a still, about 150 gallons of finished product in a deserted farmhouse about 2 miles north of Kingsdale which Cavanaugh was accused of operating.

He was taken before Justice Tom have of Sandstone Saturday when he pleaded guilty to the charge and was bound over to the District Court. He was released after bail was furnished.

MOBS ARE BURNING JUNKER ESTATES

Hunger Crazed Teutons Apply Torch to Castle Used by Frederick the Great.

Berlin—Dr. Heinrich F. Albert, who was minister of the treasury under Chancellor Cuno, has accepted President Ebert's invitation to form a new cabinet.

Berlin—German troops, aided by armed farmers were gaining control over the hunger crazed mobs who have destroyed the greater junker estates in Silesia by the use of the torch and sword.

The government still is pouring troops in Silesia. Despite the new burning and plundering the Prussian government issued a denial that there was any terrorism in Silesia.

The beautiful castle of Herr von Berge one of the oldest and richest families in Germany, located in the district of Glogau, was burned by plunderers and the family and servants were forced to flee in their night clothes.

This castle, which was used by Frederick the Great as his headquarters in 1759 and was one of the historical landmarks of Silesia, is only a mass of blackened and smoking walls.

ADmits SHIP BOARD THEFT

Dead Cashier Declares He Bilked Arkansas Family by Posing as Son

St. Paul, Minn.—A little woodshed grove near a race track where he had lost his all, an employee of the United States shipping board who had lived here three years, under the name of Jacob M. Arnof, of McCrory, Ind., committed suicide. He had stolen $250,000 during the past two years.

But before he died he left a letter of confession, written to Captain Gard and Botch, of the shipping board, in which he disclosed that he had not been Arnof at all, but one Harry Wolfe, of New Orleans.

Arnof, Wolfe went, came here in November, 1920. He and Wolfe went canoeing and the Arkansas youth fell overboard and was drowned.

Instead of going to the police he went to Arnof's room. In a general way, he resembled the drowned youth, who was not known here. He took the latter's papers, his passport, studied his letters and started his new name as Jacob Arnof.

POTATO EXCHANGE LARGEST

Maine Organization Says it Has Prevented Drop Below $1 a Hundred.

Minneapolis—With 4,423 contracts covering an acreage of 68,234, the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange became the largest organization of its kind in the United States. Contracts received carried the Minnesota movement past the Maine Potato Growers exchange, a model cooperative, in both acreage and membership.

Other county farmers are planning to contract $800 acres for marketing through the exchange with 7,000 acres already under contract. In folk, the second potato growing county in the state, more than 12,000 acres are under contract.

CONTINUE BARBERRY FIGHT

Minneapolis—Governor R. A. Nestos of North Dakota was elected president of the Conference for the Prevention of Grain Rust at the annual meeting here. Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern and W. S. Hill of the South Dakota Farm Bureau Federation were named vice presidents. The conference reaffirmed its faith in barberry eradication as a solution of the problem of controlling black stem rust of grain in the north central area. Resolutions were adopted urging Congress and the legislatures of the interested states to continue their support of the war on the common barberry bush.

"RUSHING SWEDES" OF SAME NAME

Heart Was of Concrete

An old-time ball player now has a job as ground keeper for a minor league team. He says the owner of this club has a heart of reinforced concrete. The kid had been busy all winter enlarging knotholes in the fence. Noting this recently, the owner called the attention of the superintendent to it. "Shall I plug 'em up?" asked the ground keeper. "No," replied the owner. "Let the kids be happy all the season opens. Then we'll plug 'em up."

Joy in Coat of Arms

Luis Angel Firpo now has a coat of arms and a family tree that dates back to the Twelfth century in Italy. As long as Luis Angel was a bottle washer in the Argentine he was not worried about his ancestors. Now that he is a celebrity it is different. Some time ago the wild bull put a firm which specializes in the ancestor business to work on his case. Recently he received this firm's report along with a handsome copy of the family coat of arms. According to the investigation, the Firpo family played a prominent part in events in Italy in the Twelfth century. Many of its members shedding their blood freely on the field of battle. Luis Angel appeared highly pleased with the ancestral records.

Another Star From Iowa

Wayland K. Hicks, captain of last year's Iowa basketball team and captain of the 1923 baseball team, is a promising football player. Hicks is developing very rapidly and Iowa's coach says he will shortly be one of the best all-around athletes of the state.

Bill Kamm Proves Real Star in His First Year

Although the 1923 season was a tough one for the White Sox it resulted in the development of at least one player for whom considerable money is being paid. Bill Kamm, reported to have cost $125,000. Conroy took a gamble simply by signing Kamm. Long's say so and Kamm made good with a vengeance. It is believed that his batting and fielding averages are the best ever made by a young player serving his first year in the major leagues.

Capablanca Challenged for Chess Championship

On the strength of his defeating Lasker and sharing first prize with Konevnik in the tournament at Lake Hopewell, Frank Capablanca, United States chess champion, has decided to approach Jose R. Capablanca of Havana for the purpose of arranging another match for the world's championship.

Paris Is Ready for 600 Reporters at Olympics

Newsprinters all over the world will be represented at the Olympic games of 1924, now little more than six months away. The committee in Paris is arranging to care for 600 reporters. Two hundred applications for telephones at the Colombes Stadium have been made already and 100 more are expected.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Zer is no respecter of distinguished foreigners. The record for the 50-yard three-legged race is six seconds. St. Louis Municipal Soccer League embraces 30 organizations. Minneapolis has 100 rugby football teams playing in 22 parks this fall. The Toronto club of the international league will train in Macon, Ga., next spring. The world series between the Yankees and Giants in 1923 required eight games and set a record for receipts at $90,233. Lawson Robertson, track coach of the University of Pennsylvania, is being boosted for the 500 yard race at the American Olympic team next year. Coach G. F. Sanford of the Rutgers football squad is said to have discovered the most promising fullback in W. S. Bliss, an expert boxer and tennis player. William T. "Slim" Hill, the tennis champion, has become a movie star, according to Dr. Sumner Hardy, president of the California Lawn Tennis association. Joe Hubbard, twenty-one years old, captain of Harvard football team, is six feet two inches tall and weighs 250 pounds. He is an expert boxer and wrestler. Bowling is his favorite sport. The Detroit Tigers and the Toronto International League club have arranged a series of ten exhibition games through North and South Carolina at the conclusion of their training camp activities next spring.

Umpires Fail to Notice

When a batter hits the ball with one foot out of the batter's box, the penalty prescribed by the rule book is out. In recent years umpires seem to be getting away with it and have been stepping up to hit the ball before it breaks.

GEORGE SISLER ONE OF YOUNGEST PILOTS

George Harold Sisler, star first baseman of the St. Louis Browns, who has just been appointed manager of that club, is one of the greatest pilots of major league ball clubs. He was born at Manchester, Ohio, March 24, 1883. Sisler is one of the greatest players baseball has ever produced, writes Lillian Leacock, in the Chicago Post. He is ranked by the most valuable player in the American league for the season of 1922, leading the batters with a mark of .420, the highest average ever attained in the league. He also led in number of hits, runs, three-base hits, singles and stolen bases. Sisler graduated from the University of Michigan in June, 1915, and Branch Rickey, a star ball player in college, persuaded the college to sign a contract to play with the St. Louis Browns, of which team Rickey had become manager. Although he had no minor league training except a few months' summer ball he indulged in white still in college. Sisler immediately became a regular after joining St. Louis. Sisler was an all-around player; he was a soundly pitched first baseman or outfielder, and played any of those positions efficiently until the season of 1918, when he was stationed permanently at first base. Year after year he was near the top in batting, base stealing and fielding. This remarkable young man is the exceptional player that bursts forth only once in a decade, who is about as mechanically perfect as it is humanly possible. He is a shining example of movement without effort.

CARE FOR WOODWORK PROLONGS ITS LOOKS

Unfinished Surfaces Readily Absorb Grease and Dirt.

Unfinished wood surfaces absorb grease and dirt more readily, are more likely to stain and are harder to keep clean than those in which the pores of the wood are filled with varnish, oil, paint, or other finish. In a finished house should contain as few unfinished wood surfaces as possible. In the kitchen, for example, labor may be saved by tiling or covering the floor, by covering the table with oilcloth, linoleum or zinc, and by painting or varnishing the rest of the furniture, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

Do Not Use Too Much Water on Woodwork.

Soap and water, a scrubber, such as fine steel wool or powdered pumice, may be used. Unfinished wood can be bleached with mild acid solution, which is poisonous. The wood should be covered thinly with the solution, allowed to dry, and then thoroughly washed until all traces of the acid are removed. If grease is spilled on unfinished wood, cold water should be applied at once. If possible, in order to hasten the process and prevent its spreading, then as much grease as possible should be scraped off with a knife, and the spot scrubbed with a washing soda or lye solution. If the spot is years old, a paste made of fine sand and water should be spread over it and allowed to remain overnight. Varmined and shelled surfaces should ordinarily be dusted clean with a soft brush or cloth and polished with an linen oil or soft cloth moistened with a few drops of light lubricating oil, lemon oil, or paraffine oil. Hot in will the oil or polish, and remove any surplus with a soft cloth. In general, varmined and shelled surfaces should not be touched with water, however. If they must be cleaned, they should be wiped with a cloth wrung out of warm, slightly soapy water, wiped dry at once and then polished with oil.

Slow Timing Method in Paris Olympic Games in Paris

At the Olympic games in Paris in 1924, the track events will be timed by the fifth of a second system instead of the tenth-second system now in vogue in the United States. Slow motion pictures of the various events will be taken, and in addition to helping to settle disputes, they will be distributed throughout Europe. They will thus be valuable from an instructive standpoint.

Cleveland Out $9,219.58 by Losing to White Sox

When the Cleveland American League team lost a doubleheader to the White Sox in Cleveland on Saturday, October 6, the Indian players dropped the sum of $9,219.58. Winning one of the games they would have finished in second place and divided $2,658.73 as their share of the world series money. In the appearance of badly worn, varmined woodwork may be improved by rubbing it with a good grade of floor wax.

Chinchilla Fur From Habbit.

Beal chinchilla fur is difficult to procure, as the Peruvian government has prohibited the killing of chinchillas, and the ban will last for a number of years, reports the commerce bureau. As a substitute a variety of rabbit whose fur resembles chinchilla is being bred in France. American buyers are purchasing their skins in Paris in large quantities from some 300 breeders.

Advance Hints.

Costs and dresses for fall emphasize the straight lines. Coats are said to be shorter and belts are not much in evidence.

Prince Plays Football.

Prince Froelich Skatman of the Stamese royal family, is playing quarterback this season.

GOOD USE FOR SURPLUS TOMATOES

Tomato Minicmeat Makes Excellent Pie. Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture. A good use for surplus tomatoes left at the end of the canning season is minicmeat, which will be ready in winter pie, suggests the United States Department of Agriculture.

Green Tomato Pickle.

PREPARING BREAST OF LAMB

Good Plan to Make Pocket Under Skin and Fill with Stuffing and Baking.

It is often complained to buy a nice freemarker of lamb, or necessary to dispose of this part when slaughtering on the farm. The breast sometimes presents a problem as it contains more fat and skin and less meat than other parts of the lamb, and it coated with the shoulder the most shrewdly suggest a breast of lamb. One way of avoiding this is to make a pocket under the skin, fill it with bread stuffing and bake the breast so that the thin layer of meat is protected by the stuffing from drying out. Other good ways of preparing a breast of lamb or mutton are suggested by the United States Department of Agriculture. They apply equally to a breast of veal.

Season a breast of lamb with salt and pepper and stunner until the bones are slightly out easily. Remove from the water. In the meat stock vegetables such as turnips, carrots, celery, or onions cut in small pieces, green beans, peas, and okra. More salt may be needed. A few potatoes cut small may be added to cook during the last twenty minutes.

WARM SUPPLEMENT TO LUNCH

Extension Worker of Jackson County, Oregon, Gives Directions for Making Dish.

Squash dish is an interesting and simple hot supplement to the school lunch, used in Jackson county, Oregon. The county extension worker, in her report to the United States Department of Agriculture gives the following directions for making it:

Squash Dish.
2 cans corn 1/2 teaspoonful salt
1 slice bacon 1/2 teaspoonful pepper
1/2 cup butter 1/2 cup milk

At access time, cut the bacon in small pieces. Open the corn and turn into an enameled or aluminum pan. Break the eggs into a bowl, but do not beat. At 11:45 the appointed cook should light the fire and fry the bacon until brown. The eggs are next beaten, then corn which has been thoroughly heated and seasonings are added to the eggs. The mixture is poured into the pan with the bacon and stirred until the eggs are thickened as for scrambled eggs.

All Around the House

Best rather slowly for the first two minutes when whipping cream. Then beat rapidly. Serve real hot with either pickled peaches or spiced crabapples. The combination is fine. Roll sausages in flour before frying. It will prevent breaking and also improve the flavor.

Costs Less to Keep Clean. More than 20,000 deaths and over 450,000 cases of serious illness annually are ascribed by Federal and State health reports to needlessly unsanitary conditions. It is an amazing fact that most of this needless lack of sanitation is found, not in the cities, but among the rural and small-town population. Yet wholly sanitary conditions may be brought about in the country just as quickly and easily as in the city. The actual expenditures involved is very small, especially when you consider how much the family's health will be improved as a result. It will assure you, of course, a great improvement in comfort.

Call the Corn

Flow, O Horn of Plenty, blow! Call the corn from crib and row. Call the corn and bid it be. Bidder of misery? Tally the corn to Johnny far. Find where hungry children are! Find where eyes of sorrow stare into hungry cold and bare.

Flow, O Horn of Plenty, blow! Make our thankful hearts to know Just how great it is to dwell In the land of All-Grace-will. Land where if one looks but wide, We need only turn our eyes To another, there to find, God has been just doubly kind.

Flow, O Horn of Plenty, blow! These changes soon must know That, though they have been decided, We will soon be satisfied. From a thousand fertile farms, Come by sturdy reaper arms, Will get gifts in each great store House cannot figure there.

Flow, O Horn of Plenty, blow! Call the corn from crib and row, Call the corn and bid it be. Bidder of misery? Tally a revision here will bless American households. Toss a gift, small value will say: "Tally the Thanksgiving day!"—William Hesterell, in the Indianapolis News.

The Greatest Force

The greatest force in the world is the will to serve. When it is born of enthusiasm it is dynamic in its intensity. When it emanates from a sense of duty it endures. It is the will to serve that puts imagination into business.

It is the will to serve, persisted in over a long period of years, that has made the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) one of America's outstanding successes.

It is this same will to serve that has encouraged this Company to foster industrial husbandry not alone in its own business but elsewhere.

If the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) had been content to take from crude petroleum, gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oils only, this Company would have been a large manufacturing concern, but it never could have achieved its present position as an institution in the industrial world.

Without disturbing those three essential major products, this Company set about utilizing waste. It retrieved products of great benefit to the medical profession—products that lighten the burden of the housewife—products that make night travel safe—products that make good roads—and products that serve mankind in a score of ways. All these products were developed by the will to serve.

The personnel of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are imbued with the will to serve and led by men with imagination—imagination reduced to terms of practical business.

It is the will to serve that inspired the Manufacturing Department of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to develop methods for increasing the yield of gasoline from a given quantity of crude petroleum.

It is the will to serve that caused the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to lease to competitive concerns the right to use such important manufacturing processes.

It is the will to serve that caused the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to create and maintain facilities as comprehensive as to serve a five-gallon customer as carefully, as accurately, and as promptly as it serves a thousand-gallon buyer.

It is the will to serve, expressed in terms of action, that has earned for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) the confidence, respect and esteem of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

254 Thanksgiving Days Until We Had Telephones

A struggling little group of Pilgrims colonists at Plymouth, Massachusetts, founded Thanksgiving Day in 1621. It was 254 years later, in 1875, that the telephone was born.

The Pilgrims led a rigorous life fraught with dangers and hardships. Their only means of communication called for tedious journeys on foot over unbroken trails or along the treacherous waters of an uncharted coast.

Today, we commemorate Thanksgiving with all the conveniences of modern civilization, and the celebration is a much more joyous occasion because of them.

We are now a nation of 110 million people, spread over a land 3,000 miles from coast to coast. But we are all linked together by 45 million miles of wire of the Bell System and connecting companies, so that everyone may talk to anyone, anywhere.

Gorgeous Note in Chic New Clothes

The season will be one of great importance to the creators and the wearers of smart clothes. With the assurance that society is to spend the winter merrily, even brilliantly, there is a new answer to the demand for an appropriate wardrobe, writes a fashion correspondent in New York.

The prelude to the season was played this summer by the Americans abroad, during those weeks when Paris was a veritable storm center for her beauty and its activities. The impetus came from within the gayest inner circle of the American colony, the French capital, and the most marvelous creations were dashed before an agitating public at the various gowns, hats, and accessories, the Grand Prix, the Ball, at Neuville. On all of these occasions the American woman who carried long gowns to the other side set a plunging pace and opened for Paris artists a vista of greater prosperity than they have known for many a year.

The London drawing room, at which such an unusually large number of Americans were presented this year, and the court functions are set in contrast. It was the reverse side of the picture of former times, when a presentation gown was the cry and dream of American womanhood, who followed with reverent steps the styles worn by the great ladies of Europe. Now it is the American woman whose beauty and dash gave the fancy of foreign modistes and cause the latter to endeavor to "hit up and take notice."

At this last drawing room and the court ball some of the toques worn by Americans were magnificent.

The new woolsens of which the snappy sports outfits are built are extremely English in character this season, rich in texture and warm in color tones. The neutral shades, browns and tans and tans, are now quite superseded by brighter colors and more delicate shades which are being shown with a great variety of mixtures. Tan has become a creamy beige, gray is less cold and browns are russet and glowing. Delightful greens are used for some of these sports suits.

For Outdoor Wear.

One especially chic suit is made of a wool material in which the threads of sage green and soft pastel green are interwoven with yellow in the stripes. The skirt of this suit is severely plain, straight and narrow, and is ankle length. The little box coat is closed with a single row of green buttons to the neck and fluffy orange fur forms the high collar, cuffs and a wide band straight around the bottom. As is common in many of the new sports suits, a practical pocket is concealed on each side of the jacket, under the flap. Heavy yellow down knit mittens and shoes are worn with this outfit.

Some very attractive suits and wraps for the out-of-door games are made of large plaids that are now so popular.

Paris Gown of Satin, So Heavy With Pearls and Brilliant. The Two Straps Are Required to Carry Its Weight.

Salome velvet is the edition de luxe, with a sheen and fineness that is exquisite to the touch and the eye. It is literally the rage for sporty draped gowns for afternoon and evening wear.

Winsome Draped Models.

In the draped, salome style an evening gown of apple-green satin was drawn lightly about the figure—just one piece, it appeared to be—in graceful lines, caught at one side with a huge ornament of brilliant and green stones. One corner of the drapery was left loose and trailing along to the gown the appearance of having a train, though the regular separate train is now quite passé.

The neck of this dress was cut conservatively decollete in the V shape, that is ever flattering, and quite low in the back. The velvet fell softly, very long about the feet at one side and was slightly shorter at the other side. Ruby, jade, apple green, marl-bone, apricot, hyacinth, ivory and most chic of all, black velvet, are used for the most costly gowns done by leading designers for evening gowns, in which the velvet is combined with metal and silver flowers.

Black fur is a striking feature in a number of white and light-colored gowns, baby fox being the most delicate among the many varieties shown. Lavinia has evolved one of the most distinguished models of the season. It is a dancing frock of fantastic typologicalism, it has a spreading central suggestion made of pommeter. The foundation is of white satin over which the evergreen is built, creating a mass of color in the most lovely shades of violet, hyacinth blue, orange and green are gathered full upon a fan-shaped skirt that is narrow in the front, beginning at the waistline and falling away in widening lines toward the middle of the gown, sweeping the floor.

Black Gaining Favor.

Black, in fact, is gaining in favor, as a rather bewildering array of colors is presented, and now that velvet is so fashionable, it is employed in the most striking creations.

Another novelty in composition is of black velvet, and also has a deep gloss of the same color, creating a scarlet popple. One of these lowers almost covers the front of the bodice, and two others are sewn in regular spaces down the front of the dress. A jeweled hand retaining passes over the shoulders for supporting straps and is looped in long strands under the arms at each side of the figure. The long, a tightly drawn slip of white satin, and a combination of black, scarlet and white is starting in the extrema and

Umbrellas for Traveling.

Umbrellas now not in use are generally in the way, particularly when traveling. A very original folding umbrella fitted into a cretano or black leather case, can be tucked away in an inconspicuous corner.

Hair Bands.

Small bands of fine ribbon are made vertically, make unusual trimming for a gown of beige crepe. They match the material in color and form the only trimming.

Newest Turbans.

mostly in plain colors, and cling close to the figure. These are the coats that will be worn equally with fur wraps for out-of-town weddings and dressy daytime occasions, town or country, and are especially suitable for the horse show, for which a more tallent style is now correct.

This is a season of imported materials. The demand for rich fabrics has inspired every branch of dress goods manufacture, and the market is now stocked high with gorgeous weaves of wool, fine and coarse; of silks, broadens and velvets—particularly velvets.

Hundreds of yards of gold broadens, silver broadens, of metal combined with silk, tulle, and velvets, in superb patterns, and as many yards more in plain cloth of gold and silver, make a truly amazing illustration of the extravagance of the present-day standard.

Next in prominence to the handsome broadens of metal and silk are the velvets in every lovely color. Of these,

Rev. E. A.
